

Gist of additional information in respect of HN300's application for restriction order over real name

HN300 is deceased. He was deployed between 1974 and 1977 to the Socialist Workers Party. His second marriage began before his deployment but ended shortly after the deployment ended. During his deployment, another SDS UCO recalls being told by HN300 that he had fallen in love with one of his target group and wanted to disclose to her that he was an undercover officer. HN300 was withdrawn from the field.

HN300's family from his second marriage confirmed that he met his third wife whilst deployed on the SDS and that she sometimes referred to him as 'Jimmy'. They had a child. This third marriage also ended in divorce. The woman then moved overseas in the 1980s and it has not been possible to contact her. It is understood that she has remarried.
