

Proposed gist of HN6 medical report: Dr Busuttil dated 31 July 2017.

Dr Busuttil met with HN6 in July 2017. He was also provided with HN6's GP records.

HN6 told Dr. Busuttil that HN6 had a close relationship with one individual targeted and their family.

Dr Busuttil confirms that HN6 has had mental health problems since the conclusion of the undercover work, and that the deployment directly caused those mental health problems. Those mental health problems are susceptible to treatment although the prognosis is guarded. At the date of the interview, HN6 had not had any treatment, but recommendations for specific treatment are contained in the report. In Dr Busuttil's opinion, disclosure of the real or cover name would be likely to exacerbate HN6's problems and the response to treatment intervention would be poor. Disclosure of the real or cover name after treatment would be likely to lead to a relapse of the conditions leading HN6 to suffer such conditions indefinitely.
