

MEMORANDUM

Commander Ops.

Banner Books & Crafts Ltd., 90 Camden High Street, NW1 (400/68/100)

1. "Banner Books" the well known left wing bookshop has, since it was opened in 1968, become one of the principal outlets for the dissemination of official Peking-line literature in London and a main centre of 'Maoist' activity. It is run by Gajawan V. BIJUR (402/67/715) a leading Maoist in his own right with contacts in most pro-Chinese organisations, including the 'Internationalists', in this country.

2. BIJUR is persona grata at and a frequent visitor to the Chinese Peoples Republic legation and his and Banner Books activities are of permanent interest to the Special Operations Squad [REDACTED]

3. BIJUR has recently opened a second bookshop in Brixton to which he wishes to devote more of his time and is currently looking for a suitable 'comrade' to run the one at 90 Camden High Street.

4. By coincidence, he has asked D.C. [HN45] of the Special Operations Squad to take it on, or to recommend a reliable substitute. (In the course of his penetration of Maoist groups, D.C. [HN45] is becoming a confidante of BIJUR). BIJUR would like the position filled by 14th February, 1972. [1] [2]

5. Clearly it would be neither practical nor prudent for our officer to run the bookshop on a permanent basis but there are certain advantages in his offering to run it temporarily, say for about a fortnight [REDACTED]

- (i) It would entrench our officer in BIJUR's esteem and probably make him acceptable in most Maoist circles.
- (ii) He would become privy to the inner workings and policy of "Banner Books".
- (iii) He would probably have access to records and mailing lists of persons of interest to Special Branch.
- (iv) He would be able to provide a plan of the bookshop and would have access to the keys of the premises.

7. Needless to say the security of our officer and the Special Operations Squad will be paramount in the operation.
