- Remarks: 2. B.V.S.F. Open Conference April 26/27th in London. Date not yet arranged.

MANCHANDA opened the meeting by stating that there must be a critical assessment of the B.V.S.F.'s future role, particularly in relation to the C.P.G.B., Y.C.L. and V.S.C. These organisations had failed to present a true political picture of the Vietnam struggle and had also manifestly failed to direct their demonstrations against the real aggressors in Vietnam - The United States. As a result many members of the Y.C.L. and V.S.C. had undoubtedly become disillusioned both with the lack of leadership and lack of true political direction. Now was the time for the B.V.S.F. political line to be given wide publicity in order to induce as many dissatisfied members of these organisations to join the B.V.S.F.

Privacy then expanded this latter theme, and urged all members to prepare for the forthcoming B.V.S.F. Open Conference. He said that at least "500 revolutionary students and workers" should attend in order that it should be successful, and this success depended on the all-out efforts of members present.
