REF. OF 2062

25th day of June 1969

1. The following information has been received from a reliable source:-
2. "The Second Conference of the London R.S.S.F. was held at the "Union Tavern," Lloyd Baker Street, W.C.1. from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday 22nd June, 1969. A maximum number of about 40 persons attended.
3. The agenda consisted of the Secretary's, Ed. DAVOREN's report and review of the work of London R.S.S.F., which included a detailed examination of "the role of certain counter-revolutionary and disruptive elements"; members comments and proposals for the consolidation and future work of the organisation; election of officers and Executive Committee.
4. The Conference was chaired by Harpel BRAR, and as anticipated, apart from the elections, the whole time was devoted to an exposé of Nick BATESON, Fawzi IBRAHIM and [redacted] Privacy. The history of their "Trotskyist and Revisionist" activities was traced over the period of the last two years. This was dealt with at great length by Ed. DAVOREN, and further expounded by Al. MANCHANDA, [redacted] Privacy and [redacted] Privacy. As a result it was unanimously decided that BATESON, IBRAHIM and [redacted] Privacy should be expelled from LONDON R.S.S.F.
5. Following this decision it then became necessary to elect new officers and a new Executive Committee for the organisation. The undermentioned were unanimously elected to the positions shown:

Chairman	:	[redacted]
Vice Chairman	:	[redacted] Privacy
" "	:	[redacted]
Secretary	:	(phonetic) [redacted]
Assistant Secretary	:	Ed. DAVOREN
Treasurer	:	[redacted] Privacy
6. It was necessary to amend the constitution of the organisation to allow an Assistant Secretary to be nominated. The reason given for this by DAVOREN was that, at his forthcoming trial, he anticipated receiving a prison sentence and it would seriously hamper the work of R.S.S.F. if the Secretary were in prison and there was no other person, fully conversant with the organisation, ready to take his place. [redacted] Privacy was accordingly elected to the post of Assistant Secretary.
