The only definite plan for the future was the selection of 26 November 1970 as the date for a co-ordinated 'sit-in', to take place at branches of Barclays Bank and other British firms involved in the Cahora Bassa dam project. No further details of this venture were discussed.

Privacy requested that the 'Dambusters' send a representative to speak at the African Centre on 14 November 1970 during an 'Africa Day' event which he is organising - Privacy was nominated to attend.

Amongst those present at the meeting were:-
