SPECIAL BRANCH

6 day of July 1972

1. The following information has been received from a reliable source:-

2. "A meeting of the London Aggregate of the International Marxist Group was held in the Upper Refectory, Student Union Buildings, Prince Consort Road, Kensington, SW6, on Saturday 1 July 1972 from 10am to 7.30pm. Approximately sixty persons were present.

3. The morning session was devoted to a report on finance by Privacy. Apparently the organisation was spending more than it received. Privacy exhorted all to make greater efforts to recruit new members, pay dues on time and sell "Red Hole". He proposed preparing a budget on the needs of the organisation and said it would be the responsibility of individual groups to ensure the necessary income would be forthcoming.

4. At one stage Privacy raised a point on finances contained in a document which she had received by post. It transpired that this document should have been sent to National executive members only and there was some concern as to how Privacy had received a copy.

5. Privacy then announced that the National Executive had decided to turn down the name proposed by the Conference for the new organisation - The International Communist League (ICL) as the letters were the same as those of International Computers Ltd. The National Executive therefore invited suggestions for submission through the organising committees. The meeting then broke for lunch.

6. Resuming at 2.15pm the afternoon session opened with each member having to write out on paper his full name, address, place of occupation, phone numbers, type of occupation, Pseudonyms used within the organisation, whether a member of a Trade Union (if not which Trade Union he could join) and if there existed any possibility of changing their jobs. Apparently, this exercise was closely connected with a proposed greater emphasis on Trade Union work.

7. Privacy speech on the re-organisation of work in London (see document attached) was a somewhat dis-jointed ideological summary which did little to clarify the objectives of the organisation.

However, the main part of his speech was the seven point plan as given on page 11 of the attached document which deals with the way in which members of the organisation could become more deeply involved. In the trade union field, especially engineering, local government, building trades and the Post Office.

The seven points recommended:

- A) Wherever possible comrades changing their jobs into these certain Trade Union fields or changing their Unions.
- B) Paying particularly close attention to contacts from any of these fields.
- C) All the student cells should engage in regular Mole sales in these fields, drawing student contacts into this activity wherever possible.
- D) The central and local leaderships paying particularly close attention to the task of turning the organisation to any industrial disputes that occur in any of these fields.
- E) All base groups singling out these fields for leafletting etc., in the course of their campaigns etc., and wherever possible engaging in Mole sales there.
- F) The regular distribution of internal information about these fields and experience in relation to them.
- G) The new leadership should produce a report to the next aggregate with more detailed analysis of the possibilities in each field, which form the priorities, and different methods of work and organisation in relation to each. The base groups should immediately begin collecting information about the openings they may have in relation to any or all of these fields, including the possibilities of comrades changing jobs or unions".

8. As usual many present wanted to put their own view, but few were able to in the limited time. In the event nothing of interest emerged. At 7.30pm a resolution was put to the meeting by Privacy hat Privacy plan should be adopted and this was duly passed.

9. Amongst those present were:-
