THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION HAS BEEN RECEIVED FROM A SECRET AND RELIABLE SOURCE :

Graham SMITH has not joined the Colin Roach Centre's political group 'Resistance', but has continued to follow his own agenda working within the community against the police. He is no longer involved in running the Colin Roach Centre. SMITH helps people with grievances against the police, and one grateful client presented him with a brand-new motorcycle on winning some £70,000 compensation from the Commissioner.

SMITH is currently working on his PhD, the subject of which is policing in Stoke Newington. Once this is complete, he intends to establish a charitable foundation with friends in the legal profession which will focus on allegations of police crime and corruption. He firmly believes that the reputation of the HCDA is alive and well, and that it can be built on without any sort of left-wing or anarchist politics attached to it.

SMITH remains a personal friend of Mark METCALF and Celia STUBBS.
