Director of Finance

I visited the Special Branch on 6 June 1974 to audit the accounts for 1973/74 referring to certain special expenditure which is met by an allocation of money approved for each financial year by the Home Office. The highly sensitive nature of the work occasioning the financial transactions makes it undesirable to comment on the audit in detail and I can only report in general terms.

The cash in hand was checked and found to be correct. The records were well-kept. I suggested two improvements in vouchering which should help both the police officers and the Auditor from F.2. on future occasions.

I should like to record my appreciation for the helpful and ready assistance given to me by the Special Branch officers.
