1. The following information, regarding a meeting of the Workers League which was held at the 'Three Tigeons' public house, Ealing Broadway, on Tuesday 30 March 1976, has been received from a secret and reliable source:-

"The main speaker was to have been [redacted] Privacy but he was ill with the flu and was replaced by a man called [redacted] Privacy. He was aged about 32 years, 5'8", medium build, drooping moustache, longish dark hair. The Chairman of the meeting was [redacted] Privacy

[redacted] Privacy who had made the booking for the room at the pub. He is very involved in NALGO affairs. He has private meetings at his home address on Tuesday evenings but it is not clear if these are for NALGO or for WL. He works in the [redacted] Privacy [redacted] Privacy

A representative from the ING was present and spoke about the need for Internationalism in the WL, he also expressed fraternal greetings from the ING. Another person at the meeting was a girl called [redacted] Privacy who works at some sort of [redacted] Privacy [redacted] Privacy her work phone number is [redacted] Privacy. She seems to have connections with coloured organisations in the Ealing and Southall areas. There was an Irishman called [redacted] Privacy and his wife [redacted] Privacy at the meeting, he is from the Hounslow area and I think they were in IT for some time. The meeting lasted for about two hours and there were eighteen people present. The themes appeared to be the building of a truly representative organisation of workers (which IS never was) and that recruiting was to be encouraged but quality was more important than quantity at this stage. Also one of the long-term aims that must not be lost sight of was the building of far-left unity".
