1. The following information has been received from a reliable source:-

2. On Wednesday 13 April 1977, between 8pm and 10.15pm, a meeting of the West London Libertarians was held at 113 Latham Road, 16. Ten persons were present.

3. Due to the Easter holiday, the attendance was less than usual. Since no subject for discussion had been arranged, [Redacted] Privacy, an infrequent visitor to group meetings, suggested that people might care to hear about the 'National Deviancy Conference' which he had recently attended in Sheffield. The others present had no better suggestions and so he spoke from memory for about an hour on topics which included homosexuality, drugs and pornography.

4. His speech, which was poorly delivered and disjointed in argument, was followed by a period of general discussion, during which nothing of political significance was said.

5. Persons identified as being present:-
