

Transcript of a telephone call between two members of the Socialist Workers Party dated 23 December 1983. Within the call a discussion took place regarding "Phil Cooper". It was suggested that he had not confessed to anything, but provided a strange story and as a result his cover was now blown with the group. It was stated that there had previously been suspicions regarding "Phil Cooper".