Remarks:

Set speeches were made by persons listed overleaf in the order given. Most of them promoted the official line on the demonstrations as given at Sheffield, but Chris HARMAN suggested that Downing Street and the Foreign Office should be the objectives, while Barney DAVIES said that the Y.C.L. would not object to the march passing through Grosvenor Square.

There then followed numerous contributions from the floor, accompanied by much heckling and interruption. The Maoists eventually forced a vote on the issue of having a demonstration on the 26th. October directed at Downing Street, followed by one on the 27th. October directed at Grosvenor Square. By 108 votes to 70, this resolution was defeated and the meeting ended with no firm decision being taken.
