PART III To be completed by SUPERINTENDENT/CHIEF SUPERINTENDENT after appraisal interview.

Review the officer's performance, objectives and potential with special reference to any expressed job preference and suitability together with recommendations for employment and training. Any specific advice and guidance given should be noted. Comment only on those personal matters that are relevant to the performance of duty.

[3] D/c HN304 has had a good year working in a sensitive, specialised operational unit within Special Branch. His work, which he enjoys, calls for a high degree of discretion, self reliance and self discipline coupled with initiative and resourcefulness, all of which qualities he has ably demonstrated. [4]

A well educated man, with a good working knowledge of European languages he is outspoken, energetic and enthusiastic; very much an individualist he sets himself high standards but is very self critical and sometimes fails to achieve an objective that is well within his grasp. In this respect he gives the wrong impression of being somewhat immature and lacking in self confidence, a fault which he recognizes in himself and is always attempting to correct.

He intends to sit for promotion as a competitor in 1979 and hopes to make his future career in Special Branch.
